

A COLLECTION OF PERSONAL EXPERIENCES AND RECOMMENDATIONS FOR USE BY USERS OF NCD

(Liquid colloidal Zeolite, clinoptilolite)

You never can tell what you may prevent, or whose life you may change in a positive way by sharing information!

Dr. Harvey Kaufman spent years in research to purify and convert zeolites into a water-soluble form that is patented with the US Government Patent Office under Patent #6288045 and is now being marketed as a supplement under the name Natural Cellular Defense or zeolite drops. When ingested, the zeolite attracts and holds within itself heavy metals, chemicals viruses, fungus, insecticides and other toxins, then excretes them through the kidneys with no renal complications whatsoever.

The following testimonials are not meant to diagnose or prescribe. We are not making any inferences or direct claims that anyone else will have these same results. These are personal testimonials given from personal experiences, and are not meant to make a claim in anybody else's circumstances.

Zeolite is NOT condition specific; it is detoxification specific. *Science shows that it helps to detoxify heavy metals and many chemicals; it helps to balance the pH; and it helps support healthy immune function. *Many people are reporting that the "down-stream" effect of these 3 benefits seems to be very powerful at helping the body work more efficiently; it also seems that results of the "down-stream" effect can be different from one person to the next, because no two people have exactly the same toxic burden, genetics, stressors, or desire for good health; even if they have the same diet.

No guarantees of Zeolite liquid helping one condition or another is ever claimed or implied. *Zeolite is considered by many health professionals to be the most efficient and safest detoxification product on the market. *A brief look at modern scientific research on the importance of balanced pH in the body, and on the devastating effect that toxic chemicals and heavy metals are having on everything on this planet, should complete the picture a bit. *If the toxic world we live in could have possibly affected our ability to maintain good health, it might be worth a try to see if relieving some of that toxic burden in the body could help it to function more as it was originally designed to do.

We talk about the products that drive us to results and especially about NCD which is our liquid zeolite product, one of Gods' most perfect tools. We are truly blessed to have it in our arsenal. In addition to that, we have a wonderful product that we call "High Five"—it is the Essential Daily Nutritents (or EDN).

We do not make any medical claims and do not intend to prescribe or diagnose anyone's condition, but there are remarkable results from using this all-natural product. It can't hurt you, and may help you, and some of the folks it has already helped are here to share with you. We want to help as many people as we can

1. ZEOLITE DROPS GENERAL INFORMATION AND USAGE

(Here are some useful instructions about taking zeolite drops)

Zeolite is a one of the few minerals found in nature which has a negative magnetic charge. It attracts toxins, which have a positive magnetic charge; such as heavy metals, nitrosamines, and chemicals; engulfs them inside its microscopic honeycomb-like structure and carries the toxins out of the body. *It will not remove important nutrients from the body; there is scientific evidence that actually indicates a higher level of nutritional balance in study subjects that were given Zeolite supplementation. *Zeolite liquid is also known for its ability to effectively support pH balance and healthy immune system function.

We recommend that any person taking a prescription medication consult with their doctor before taking this product to avoid interaction with their medication. For example, due to its negative magnetic charge, Zeolite may potentially attract Platinum in some chemotherapy drugs. If you are receiving chemotherapy you should consult with your doctor before using this product. In addition, Lithium could be attracted to the Zeolite and therefore it should not be used by anyone taking a Lithium prescription drug. Both of these medications potentially could be removed by Zeolite. *As the body detoxifies, the potential for the body to function more efficiently exists; therefore as improvements are made, it may be desirable to reassess medication efficacy and dosages. Thus, please consult with your doctor after taking Zeolite to monitor your care.

The maintenance detoxification amount for generally healthy people is considered 3 drops 3 times per day. A more rapid detoxifying amount for generally healthy people is considered 10 drops 3 times per day; up to 15 drops 4-6 times per day, spaced as evenly as possible, might be used if a more aggressive approach to detoxifying is desired. Although, many people find that what works well for them may not be any of these exact amounts.

Some very sensitive people (see next section) have reported that they are getting good results with 1 drop per day--others report that they are taking 1 drop 2-3 times per day with good results. Others have even found that taking 1 drop twice per week (perhaps on Mon & Fri) is quite effective or that putting 1 drop in a tablespoon of water then taking one drop of that per day, is sometimes helpful for sensitive folks. If you experience discomfort beyond your usual detoxification reaction please reduce your amount and/or frequency of use. If after making those changes you are still experiencing discomfort, discontinue use. DO NOT USE this product if you are pregnant, nursing, under medical care for a disease or health condition without first consulting your physician. This product should not be used by anyone under the age of 18.

Many people have reported very rapid noticeable results; perhaps within a few hours, days or weeks of starting to take Zeolite. Others have felt their most profound results after about 3 or 4 months of consistently taking Zeolite; and have stated that they were very happy that they continued to take the drops, even though they were "slower than some" to feel a change.

The current medical scientific recommendation for water consumption, for an average healthy adult is: 1/2 of a person's body weight in ounces of water per day. For instance, this would be 100 ounces of water per day for a 200 pound person. It is very important to drink at least the recommended amount of purified water everyday to insure a healthy level of hydration while detoxifying with this product. Although, the exact amount of water that a person drinks for best results seems to vary; most people report that a "normal" or even "extra" water intake seems to be very crucial to obtaining their desired results. It is noteworthy that some people have reported that they did not start "feeling their results" at all until they switched from tap-water to purified water, as their water source; so perhaps drinking more "toxic water" is not always a good thing. Especially, for those that are particularly sensitive, drinking enough purified water is vital to obtaining desired results!

3. PROCESSES OF BECOMING WELL WITH A CHEMICALLY-SENSITIVE BODY. SOME CAUTIONS USING NCD

These recommendations are based on Marie DeArmon's experiences 2006 April 22

3.1. INTRODUCTION

There are probably a lot of people out there who have heard my story and what is going on with me, but what I would really like to say is that one of the reasons I think this product is vitally important is the category of people that are very sensitive. I don't like to really put that in a multiple chemicals sensitivities category because there are many people that have never had that diagnosis, never heard that terminology that still are very sensitive, and they know that they are allergic to everything, they react to every drug, or have lots of food allergies. They can't be around cigarette smoke or incense or even flowers. If people are in that category, many times they have a very hard time with any natural or medical approach to anything.

3.2. HOW AUTOIMMUNE DISTURBANCES WORK

As severe as my situation has been over the years, anybody that you are working with or potentially working with NCD, generally everybody will tell you everything that's wrong with them if you are willing to listen. And if you are hearing them say things about them having an autoimmune disturbance (which is where body actually views itself as its own enemy) and is attacking itself, in my opinion (and I have lived my whole life with several documented autoimmune system disorders) our immune system disorders (in large part) are generally caused by toxins that become part of your body on an ongoing basis, and the body doesn't view those as foreign invaders and it tends to attack and rid itself of something that's actually become part of their homes and is living there. There is a large part of the population that is developing more and more autoimmune system situations and as time goes on there is more and more toxicity.

There is a doctor that came up to me after the conference in Orlando FL who is a medical doctor and he and his partner (a nurse) were both completely debilitated with multiple sensitivities for quite a number of years and have come full-circle and don't have those reactions to the environment anymore. I was thrilled to meet them. I have come a long ways and I would like to rid myself of the situation completely too, but I am working with some now and learning a lot about their healing processes. One of the things that he has said, as a medical doctor, now specializing with multiple chemical sensitivities and first-hand experience with how horribly debilitating it can be, that within the next 25 years everyone on the planet will have developed multiple chemical sensitivities because every time we have another assault (whether it's minor or major) it's one more drop in the bucket toward having more toxins in our body than our body knows how to deal with and our detox pathways get damaged and things don't work as well anymore.

I think that this is the most important thing that we can offer people that have a situation of sensitivity because they have no other resources that any of us have ever found for removing toxins, and in a safe way. It's just that thing to lean on in these situations. People just need to gear their dosages way down and start at a level that that person's body can handle and an adjustment period a little at a time. So I think more and more—yes, we know what the patent was written for—but this is so much more broad than anything we've ever worked with because it gets to the cause of the modern day chronic and degenerative diseases.

3.3. SHOULD WE DO OTHER CLEANSING BEFORE STARTING ON NCD?

Let me answer a question I had in an email this week: Somebody had had multiple problems with their liver and gall bladder and colon and the person was of the opinion that she needed to do massive gall bladder and liver and colon cleansing before they would be able to be a candidate for using NCD. They wanted my opinion on that. I am not saying that there may be someone out there who should do some liver, gall bladder cleanse or colon cleanse before they start on NCD. I'm not everybody's health practitioner and there is no way for me to know what everybody's situation is when they go into the arena of using any products, so if there are people out there that do have significant health problems, first of all, I would recommend that you not try to be their health professional (unless you are their health professional), and I would really highly recommend that they become educated about the product and how to use it, and then take that to their health professional and say, "Would you help me with this in monitoring me and help me with support products while I go through this process." In my situation, the only thing I can legally talk about is my own body. I have very damaged liver and detox pathways. My liver and kidneys don't function well; I've had colon problems most of my life, and all of those things are much better now than they were years ago, but I still have severe problems compared with the general population.

I have done many liver and gall bladder cleanses and many colon cleanses over the years and for me, NCD has done more toward facilitating normal liver, gall bladder, and colon function than any other cleanse I have ever done. It has caused me much less distress during detox cycles than any other cleanse I have ever done.

I have had quite a bit of experience now with a lot of my clients, friends and family members that have had impaired liver, kidneys, colon function that have all done much better with NCD than they were with the other methods that they were using to detox. I think that everybody has to be taken as an individual case; I don't think anything is across the board the same way for everybody. I think if people are really ill and have a lot of challenges they need some health professional to help them through the process (in my opinion) and I think that good common sense goes a long way. So if you have somebody who is completely blocked, they may actually even need a surgeon for intervention! Let's not make the assumption that everything or person on the planet is in the same category for anything.

We are going to assemble an Advisory Board for our organization of health professionals that are aware of these issues that have just been discussed, as opposed to the mainstream (which is totally not aware of the issues yet). Our panel will include MD's and PhD's and ND's and chiropractors and any other kind of health professional that we can find who is willing to participate. We are going to start doing some calls and round-table discussions with those people and then bring in Rik Deitsch on it and have him discuss with these people. That could be a very interesting conversation to get people who come from very diverse backgrounds with very different arenas of experience and knowledge, and then they cross-pollinate, and we can really move all the efforts of our company and our organization and ourselves forward with these kinds of in-depth discussions. So that is something you can look forward to also. We are headed in that direction.

I have said quite a few times on these conference calls about general information on NCD. This product is not disease- or condition-specific. It is detoxification-specific. It detoxifies very specific things that have the right charge and the right size that fit inside the zeolite honeycomb. That is the zeolite's forte. Unfortunately, we have many, many health professionals all over the world that say that probably at least 95% of all conditions out there (no matter what they are) are either directly caused by toxins in our environment and have made it into our bodies and/or have been made worse by the toxins in our environment that have made it into our bodies, so from that standpoint, this product is hands down the only product to safely remove the cause of most symptomologies that the modern world deals with. It is an incredible thing that we need to get out to not only other health practitioners that understand the detoxification of the body and then rebuilding with good sound nutrition and other therapies, plus it is really the only way to obtain true healing. (That healing actually comes from the body, by the way.) It does not come from zeolite; it does not come from vitamin C or any amino acid. It comes from the body's built-in healing mechanism.

3.4. A SEVERE TEST

An individual called me the other day who has had the very severe autoimmune disorder of lupus for many years. A number of years ago a friend had introduced her to a high-quality nutritional supplement program and she was working with him and she actually had no symptoms of lupus anymore at the point that she started on NCD. When she started on NCD, the person who had recommended the product had not had any experience in working with it yet and so she went on the instructions on the card where it says to start with 10 drops three times a day, and evidently with her first 10 drops she was extremely ill and had an aggravation of all of her old symptoms, and she was very irate. She had three different reactions and none of them were a positive thing in the NCD or Waiora arena. Her sponsor knew I had some experience in this arena and he connected with me, and when she understood that in her situation with an autoimmune history that even though she had found some balance by taking the right nutrients into her system to support her bodily functions, she had found kind of a status quo state. She wasn't in extremely high energy health, but she wasn't having all the pain and the lupus relapses that she was accustomed to for many years.

But the thing that she wasn't really aware of was what had caused her problem was toxins in the environment. She didn't realize that none of the toxins that had caused that problem had really effectively been removed from the cells by using the nutritional support. Maybe some of it had gotten out, but heavy metals and the very severely toxic chemicals would get tucked away in very secluded fat cells and out in the nerve endings in our fingers and toes that cause neuropathy – our body is masterful at trying to protect us from these heavy metals and toxic chemicals—so they are not easily uprooted by a nutritional supplement program. And if they are, then they are just dumped into the system and our kidneys and liver and nervous system have to deal with it the best they can. So when she understood that by finding a status quo with the nutritional products she had taken the edge off of her lupus scenario, but the problem was still there, which means that at any point that she had another stress curve or any additional toxins in any significant way she was at risk of having all those lupus symptoms coming back anyway, and by taking a large dose of NCD her body had dumped a whole bunch of things into her system all at once that she was having difficulty processing quickly enough, so she was went off the product for several weeks (she said) and during that time she was having extreme symptomology. She went back on three drops and had everything reactivate again, so she was ready to give up at that point.

She got hold of me and felt very relaxed with the advice of her maybe choosing to take one drop in one day and see how her body does with that – and if she does well at that level that she might perhaps want to choose to take one drop the next day and see if one drop two days in a row is something that her body could handle.

I had another lady in the St. Louis area who started with one drop and she could handle that – not too negative, not too positive (she could feel things going on) and the next day she took one more drop and then she had more detox going on than she could cope with and found out in the beginning that she couldn't take her drops two days in a row. She had to skip a few days in between. My theory is that people who are willing to start at whatever level their body requires will have positive results.

4. A COLLECTION OF PERSONAL EXPERIENCES

4.1 BLADDER CANCER Submitted by: Ron Date: 2005 September 10

Last January (2005) my father-in-law had another surgery for bladder cancer. In this, and the previous surgeries, tumors were found and treated. Since last January he has worn a catheter bag to collect his urine. A few months ago his catheter bag began to have blood in it. He continued to pass more and more blood, accompanied by a foul odor. After testing his urine and blood, his doctor told him the cancer was back. The doctor explained that radiation treatments would likely follow the surgery and maybe chemotherapy after that. Surgery was scheduled for Friday Sept. 2nd.

On Saturday, Aug. 20th, we got some zeolite drops to him. In FOUR DAYS the bleeding STOPPED and the catheter bag remained clear of any blood. After a week on NCD, he woke one morning and his catheter bag was full of a sticky ugly gunk, and had a terrible odor. The catheter bags and tubes could not be cleaned, and had to be discarded and replaced. From that point on there has been NO blood or odor in his catheter bag.

Friday, September 2nd, Carl underwent surgery. His doctor was surprised to find NO Tumors in his bladder! He said he was just sure there would be tumors there. Carl has also experienced an increase in energy since taking the Zeolite Drops.

4.2. SKIN RASHES: A-TOPIC DERMATITIS Submitted by: Julie Herbert From: Idaho Falls, ID
Date: 2005 September 22,

Hi, I am Julie Herbert. I am very passionate about Liquid Zeolite Drops and I want to tell you why. I have been in the health care arena for over 12 years. I have been trained by many medical and holistic, health care professionals, and have studied many healing modalities. My passion for better health leads me to lecture at community education classes and wellness conventions. Topics include healthy eating, environmental toxins, aromatherapy, freedom through health, and balancing hormones.

I am one of those 77 million baby boomers born between 1946 and 1964. Even with the blessing of good health that I have enjoyed most of my life, I developed a health challenge (See pictures below). For FOUR years, I tried chelation, CLEANSING, emotional releasing, massage, vitamin supplementation regimens, meditation, fasting, juicing, detox and frequency machines, and too many colon and liver CLEANSSES to name! The medical world named my skin condition “a-topic dermatitis”. All I know is that it itched and depending on the environment I was surrounded by, I could really get “rashy.” It would get so bad that often my sleep was interrupted. Many things such as chemical sensitivities; allergic reaction to various foods; and even stress would create flare-ups.

I was never diagnosed with an auto-immune disease but had many of the symptoms. Some of my symptoms included: allergies, sinus problems, brain fog, headaches, low energy levels, chemical sensitivities, and frequent infections. I used about every product on the market to find some kind of relief and assist in my healing.

I was introduced to Liquid Zeolite Drops on September 22, 2005. After using Liquid Zeolite Drops for 30 days I noticed a marked reduction in the skin rash and the intense itching was all but gone. After 45 days the rash cleared up and the itch was completely gone. I am now able to eat most of the foods which previously would have caused a severe itchy rash.

The air we breathe is full of germs, viruses, and other irritants. Allergies, mold, environmental toxins abound. Allergic reactions trigger chronic inflammation. Immune response places large demands on the body, a constant “war” against allergens in the blood can use up all the available energy and weaken the body’s defenses. Inflammation is the body’s first defense against infection, and when it goes awry, it can lead to a host of diseases. In addition, allergenic particles settle in tissues surrounding the joint and inflammation can begin to manifest. Imagine the relief I felt when this “war” in my body ended!

With a balanced immune system, you can take control of your health. The drops have helped ME take control. What has the Liquid Zeolite Drops prevented and assisted my body to heal? I may never know what Liquid Zeolite Drops are preventing. I just know that it is. I believe in the philosophy “live a life of detoxing.” With Liquid Zeolite Drops, you can do just that everyday with a few drops in your water.

How exciting to have Liquid Zeolite Drops that CLEARS & CLEANSSES on so many different levels. Bringing light, hope, healing, and wholeness is a true gift & blessing.
This product is so unusual and dynamic That we have internationally renowned health professionals In the wellness community saying, that this may well be The single most profound breakthrough in health of our time.

4.3. THYROID CANCER Submitted by: Margie, Health Food Practitioner From: Texas Date: 2005 October 25

I met Dr. Harvey Kaufman in Texas at a training conference. I had cancer of the left side of my thyroid, but it reached out into the throat and my vocal chords and wrapped around them. I had surgery in Houston TX in March 2005, but the left side of my throat still is paralyzed, so I have a hard time talking – the sounds have to come from lower down and it wears me out to talk, but after taking the zeolite drops it is better. I am not getting as tired; I hope I am able to be understood, where previously I was not able to be understood. In fact, I was getting in trouble before taking the drops. Everybody at work says that my voice is improving now.

Dr. Kaufman told me to use 30 drops three times a day for three weeks and then call him back and see what we can do from there. We are hoping to rebuild nerves to the paralyzed muscles. I feel good taking 90 drops a day. I have not had any ill effects at all – no rash, no nothing. There have been no ill effects whatsoever." October 25, 2005, Conference Call

4.4. BREAST CANCER Submitted by: Judy Pieche From: California Date: 2005 November 10

In April of 2005, I developed breast cancer and had chemo and radiation in May. The cancer spread to my liver, kidney, colon, bones, and a tumor wrapped itself around my spine. I have been in terrible pain, unable to dress myself or do anything such as meals, laundry, etc..

I started the drops two weeks ago, taking 15 drops four times a day, and last weekend, I felt well enough to fix an entire meal for my husband, Gene, and myself.

I am now feeling well enough to dress myself, do the laundry, make the beds, and my appetite has increased and I am sleeping better. I am eternally grateful for the drops. Gene and I even went Christmas shopping to 10 or 12 stores and still went out to eat afterward. I am perkier and believe now I am going to beat the cancer.

4.5. BREAST CANCER Submitted by: Sue Jacobs From: St. Louis, MO Date: 2005 December 22,

In November of 2005 my story really begins, not to mention my life. I decided to have a checkup, since I was at that age, and since I had not had a mammogram in 16 years I decided to do that as well. To my dismay they found a mass the size of a golf ball in my right breast. At that very time my friends told me about Natural Cellular Defense. I am an open-minded woman, so why not try it – what would I have to lose.

I began to take 10 drops 3 times a day for 4 weeks straight. Actually, the first reaction to the NCD was the amount of energy I felt just within the first week. I returned for a possible biopsy and then scheduling to remove the mass. After using the ultrasound machine the doctors came to the conclusion – we can't do the biopsy since we cannot locate the mass.

I can only say how unbelievable this is – just about a miracle! Now to top that off I have been on the drops, reducing the dosage between 5 and 8 drops 3 times a day. I am now completely off anti-depressive drugs, eating a balanced diet, and have a mental clarity along with energy, that I honestly have never had in my entire life! Pass this on to the skeptical and to the believers. It is my story for "The Most Important Supplement You'll Ever Take!"

Depression has always been an ugly and sometimes unbearable part of my life for at least the better part of 53 years of life. I will spare you the last decade because I barely participated in life. I have been on Prozac and other anti-depressive drugs for about that long.

I will continue on the NCD drops, which I call, "the Wonder drops" as long as they are available. Thanks to all who are helping people regain their lives and then some! Blessings and warm wishes.

4.6. LYMPH CANCER Submitted by: Keiko From: Japan Date: 2005 October

At the end of October 2004 (11 months ago) I was diagnosed in Japan with Class 3 cervical cancer. At the recommendation of my doctors I underwent 28 rounds of radiation therapy. At the end of those treatments my doctors told me they had eradicated the cancer in her cervix. My daughter, Felice, had a recommendation from her doctors in Hawaii that I should really have a PET scan in Japan to check and make sure it hadn't spread anywhere else. It had indeed metastasized to every lymph node in my body.

Felice took me to Hawaii in June of this year and the oncologists there said this was an extremely aggressive form of cancer. A CT scan showed two more spots (on my lung and on my stomach) in addition to everything else. They would try eight rounds of chemotherapy to put off what seemed imminent, but the prognosis was grim. They didn't expect me to live even a year.

By the fifth round of chemotherapy I was so sick (nausea, vomiting and diarrhea) we decided to stop – that was three weeks ago. Instead, we kept praying and kept using the natural supplements. Five weeks ago a friend told Felice and me about NCD. I took it for a week before I had to stop to accommodate the fifth round of my chemo schedule. This time I got so sick from the chemo that my daughter and I decided to stop the treatments right in the middle of the round (three weeks ago) and we continued with the NCD 15 drops three times a day, starting the next day.

Three weeks later (Monday this week) I had a follow-up contrast dye CT scan. When we walked into my doctor's office he asked how I was feeling and what I had been eating. He had a perplexed look on his face. We didn't know what to expect, but hoped and prayed there would be some positive news. I didn't just have a report that was good—it was beyond all expectations. The doctor told me and my daughter there was not one single sign of cancer anywhere in my body – not in the lymph nodes, not on my lung or stomach!

As you might expect, he asked her what she was doing. Felice told him and the nurses to check out the Waiaora website.

We were stunned. My daughter even asked the doctor, "Are you sure? Who actually read the CT scan?" and he reassured her it was definitely the expert, the radiologist (not just him). He was amazed, too, and said that less than 20% of his patients ever have such a thing happen, that even if there was great improvement they usually see some residual cancer still in the body – but there was nothing there. Nothing! And the nurses were crying with emotion when they spoke with me and Felice Keiko, I have asked her to write a report on what she has seen and experienced to date. I will forward her comments as soon as I receive them. ...Chuck Burdick, November 22, 2005
Keiko will have another CT scan in three months to confirm she is truly out of the woods. Meantime she will be taking her NCD every day!

4.7. DONNA ABBOTT, RN - Every Cancer Patient Needs NCD

Donna Abbott in California has been a nurse for over 34 years. She has worked for several oncologists as a head nurse and administered chemotherapy to many patients. She is currently working with a cancer institute in Mexico, just across the border from San Diego. After just a couple of weeks of seeing the results of the NCD drops being used by both humans and animals, she said she believes that Natural Cellular Defense will be as important to the world as the introduction of penicillin was.

She has approached the Cancer Institute suggesting every patient be given the NCD drops regardless of their standard regimen.

4.8. PANCREATIC CANCER - STAPH INFECTION Submitted by: Susan Andrews From: Shelley, ID Date: 2006 January 4

My road back to health from a deadly bout with cancer ended with a God-sent product called Waiora NATURAL CELLULAR DEFENSE! In 1999, I became extremely ill. The doctors thought my pain was caused from gallstones in my gallbladder. They did a gallbladder removal, but the pain was still there. A few months later, I had pain in my lower abdomen on the left side. My gynecologist told me that I had pre-cancer cells in my uterus and that if I did not get a hysterectomy that I would surely get cancer, so I got the hysterectomy.

These two surgeries did not help my pain levels at all. I quit going to the doctors and decided to go the natural route. I became increasingly ill and found out a year later, that I had pancreatic cancer. I had been using machines from Canada which helped tremendously with the pain levels. I ate only vegetables and a little chicken and fish. Carbohydrates were out of the question. They made me extremely ill.

Three and a half years later, the cancer went away. Two years after the cancer was gone, I was still ill. My head would itch horribly every time I ate carbohydrates. I would feel movement in my head; my vision was blurred and would fade in and out. I had infection in my jaw and had two oral surgeries to remove the infection. I also lost a tooth to the infection. The pain had started with my parotid gland swelling and getting sore. My hearing was blocked and my ear ached just like I'd had an ear infection. I went to an ear specialist, and he could find nothing wrong with my ear. I finally went to a chiropractor who told me that I had a staph infection in my head. It had gone into my brain. I was so very weak and could not sleep. I felt like I was losing my mind, and my brain would not quiet down at night and let me sleep. Most of the summer of 2005 was spent pacing the floor all night long between prayers.

I found some homeopathic staph drops that worked quite well. The only problem was that when I would use them faithfully, my liver and kidneys would get overloaded. I became weaker and weaker and would have to stop using them to let my organs rest. In the meantime the staph would be growing. Also, the staph would mutate, then the homeopathic drops would no longer work and I would have to go find another formulation. I visited four chiropractors, each one confirming that I did have a staph infection in my head, and each one giving me a new formulation of homeopathic drops.

The last chiropractor I went to put me on the Standard Process cleanse. I had just finished my cleanse when I was looking in the mirror and noticed a cavity in one of my teeth. I went to my dentist, who shares my enthusiasm for natural healing. I explained to him my situation, and he told me of this new product that he had just learned about and gave me information. I had been taking homeopathic drops every two hours all night long for months. I was very exhausted to say the least. I took 2 drops of the NATURAL CELLULAR DEFENSE and fell into a deep sleep, not waking until morning. I could feel something different immediately.

I have been on the NATURAL CELLULAR DEFENSE drops for over two months now. I am still going through some heavy detox symptoms, but I am well on the road back to health. I thank God every day for these miracles from nature!

4.9. ROB D. Submitted by: C.D. From: B.C. Canada Date: 2006 April

Our 15 year old son Rob, has been sick for four years. The doctors were unable to figure out what was causing the problems but he consistently complained of a sore stomach and his immune system was weak. In August, 2004, he had a flu that became septic and we almost lost him. His liver and kidneys shut down and his lungs and heart tried to. When he regained consciousness, he had lost the ability to walk and he continued to struggle with this skill for the next year and a half. On Dec. 31, 2005, the same flu appeared again but this time, the body weakness extended right up to his shoulders. His urine was very dark and thick and anything that had fat or oils in it made him sick. We felt that indicated that his liver and kidneys were once again having problems. He had also become very nauseated after having two MRI's and one CAT scan done. The doctors were still unable to isolate a virus, so after extensive testing, they decided it was psychosomatic.

We suspected that the problem was viral but we were being forced into putting him into a psychiatric ward. This was all wrong for him and would have caused endless complications. Fortunately, at this time, NCD was recommended to us by Bonnie Doon Health Supplies in Osoyoos, B.C. I started him off at 5 drops 3 times a day. Within 12 hours, his nausea had disappeared and within two days he had regained control of his upper body. It took only a week and a half and he was actually walking again. Within two weeks, he was walking independently with full balance. His urine returned to normal and he is now able to eat butter and mayonnaise again. I have never seen anyone respond so quickly and it was wonderful to see him out of the wheelchair and to see how tall he had grown. He is much happier mentally too, as he no longer feels so depressed. Needless to say, we were able to stop the doctors from their inappropriate action of putting him in a psychiatric unit and we took him home, where he belonged. We are going to continue to keep him on NCD and if there are further changes we will let everyone know. We thank Waiora and NCD for helping us get our son back. We feel the Zeolites have saved his life.

4.10. KIDNEY CANCER Submitted by: Chuck From: Texas, Date: 2006 May 13

4.10.1. INTRODUCTION

For the past 30 years I have always been pretty much what some people would determine a "health nut" just because I believe in taking vitamins and minerals and other things I have felt would be good preventive measures. I did a lot of exercising through the years and I have been in pretty good health most of my adult life.

All of a sudden in 2004 I was diagnosed with kidney cancer. They told me they were going to have to remove my left kidney and that the tumor was so large there was no way they could do a microsurgery and it would have to be a full-blown open surgery at the M. P. Anderson Hospital in Houston. So the left kidney was removed. They told my wife later in the waiting room that they found I had a football-sized tumor that had totally encapsulated my left kidney. It intrigued me that the tumor had all been somewhat encapsulated and had not metastasized as near as they could tell at that point. However, they had to take out most of the lymph nodes and they were pretty sure it probably would show up later some place in my brain, lungs, or that sort of thing.

The tumor was composed of very rare cancer cells, and as a result they had informed me that there were no protocols for that particular cancer cell. There was no radiation; there was no chemotherapy, no vaccine for that type of cells. There was nothing, so basically the last information was that it was a hospice case. However, before I left the hospital the doctor said, "I feel like we need to do something, so let's see about putting you on the chemotherapy pills that have been prescribed for lung cancer protocol. It has been somewhat effective (I think about 10%) of lung cancer cases, but it doesn't seem to have any effect on kidney cancer. We need to be doing something." It is disconcerting to think they are using you as a Guinea pig in hopes that you might be the one that gets the results.

4.10.2. WHY THIS TYPE OF CANCER?

The doctors had no idea why I would have developed this type of cancer, but I honestly believe that I had actually injured myself when I was working in the garage some time earlier. I remember kneeling down to pick up something off the floor and when I came back up I caught the corner of a metal stand right in my back left kidney area. I went down on the floor with the pain, but I just rubbed it off and went on about my business. It was probably 12 weeks later that I went to bed one night and about 1:00 o'clock in the morning I got a pain kind of like a kidney stone which I had had some 20 years earlier. I thought I could just wait it out, but about five minutes later the pain began to recur and it did not move and I thought I had better go to the Emergency Room because this was not good.

While at the hospital it turned out that I had bled two units of blood internally, and it was not a kidney stone, even though the pain was very similar. It was a few months after that episode that my friends kept telling me.." Chuck, are you sure you feel okay? You just don't look good. Have you been to a doctor lately?" That happened to me three times in one week, and after the third one I said, "That's it. I had better get to the doctor and see if there might be something wrong." So I did, and it was beyond what my urologist could handle. They said it was way past anything they were capable of doing at that hospital, so they referred me to M. P. Anderson, and I knew instantly that it was something major.

4.10.3. POSSIBLE EXPOSURES TO HEAVY CHEMICALS

As a kid I probably had been exposed to heavy metals. I remember one weekend when I picked up a lot of lawn chemicals and I mixed two of them together, then went out and sprayed the yard. I did that for probably a couple of hours and that afternoon I was bleeding from my nose—not a good sign. Years ago I used to immerse my hands in chemicals (benzene and those types of things) while I was working on cars to clean the parts that were dirty. I didn't wear gloves—most people didn't back then—but I know now that those substances can penetrate the skin and get into your body, and it could be there for years before the problems show up.

4.10.4. CHEMOTHERAPY PILL AND SCAN PROTOCOL

They placed me on the chemotherapy pills and over a year's time I immediately went on heavier doses of other nutritional supplements that I knew about which did keep me strong and helped restore my body from the surgery. They were always surprised at how healthy I looked when I would go to the hospital. I wish you could look as good on the inside as you do on the outside! That would be great!

Every 12 weeks they would give me scans and they would monitor everything. Finally, in August of 2005 my oncologist told me that my lymph nodes had gotten so large and were growing so fast that they were going to reduce the scans to eight weeks and if they weren't any better and they didn't see a turn around they would have to put me on intravenous chemo.

About five days before that eight-week period was up when I was going to have to go back for those scans where they would give me intravenous chemo, a friend called me here at Houston and said, "There is a nutritional product that you really need to investigate immediately." He was one of the few people who knew what the oncologist had told me and what he was planning to do.

He gave me the place where I could go to investigate the product, which was a micronized zeolite formula in liquid drops. When I investigated it I found that it would put no stress on any of the organs of the body. That was important to me because when you only have one kidney, the last thing you want to do is stress out that kidney. I had done that before when I tried to detox with a very effective product, and in trying to do that I really stressed out my kidney and I had to go off the product. I had pains and everything else from trying to do that, so it made me very cautious about anything I took after that.

When I saw that this particular product, the zeolite drops, would not put any stress on any organs of the body, I thought, "Okay, that's safe. I'm going to try this. I don't see anything in here that would keep me from trying it. It was priced right. I was taking the chemotherapy pills that were the size of an Ibuprofen – you take one a day – and each one of those pills cost $110! With this particular product, the dosage I would probably take would be something like $40 for a week's supply.

4.10.5. CHEMOTHERAPY PILL SIDE EFFECTS

The worst side effects of taking that particular chemotherapy pill related to the skin, but actually because of the other nutritional products I took, it somewhat lessened them. Many people try to go on the same chemotherapy pill I was taking, but they can't handle it. In very short order they have bleeding sores on their face and their body that just bleed openly and they get diarrhoea so bad there's no way they can continue, and they will have to take them off the pill. With the help of good nutritional products my side effects were lessened, but I got one of the worst acne cases—like a 16 year-old kid—that you can imagine. It was not just on my face. It literally covered the entire body from the waist up, from the trunk of my body up into my face and the back of my neck and my scalp. That pill was causing that sort of reaction at the epithelial cellular level. After a year of that, I was so embarrassed about my face I didn't want to go out. It also keeps your body kind of torn up to where you never know where you might have some sort of problem as far as bowels and that sort of thing are concerned. Even though there are much worse side effects from other types of drugs out there, it's still not a pleasant thing to live with.

4.10.6. I MADE THE DECISION

Once I made my decision I decided to order the zeolite product immediately because I was going to have to have those scans in four to five days and I thought, "No, I don't want to do that." I felt like I needed to be on the product a longer period of time before I had these scans, so I could see if I could attribute any change from the previous scans to the new ones, and I didn't expect that five days would be long enough to do that, so I decided to call and delay the scans. I ended up actually being on the product about three weeks before I went and got my scans.

During that period of time I didn't feel anything. There was no feeling that I was taking anything. I had no real pain; I didn't feel a reduction in pain or anything else. The only thing I noticed was within about five days of being on the zeolite drops my face cleared up significantly, about 99%. It was absolutely amazing! I was definitely very pleased at just that alone, but as far as anything else I had no idea when I went in for my scans if it had done anything at all. There was no way for me to know.

4.10.7. SCAN RESULTS

I got my scans three weeks later after starting on the product and the next day I got word to see my oncologist to review the readings of the scans from the day before. My oncologist came in and he was smiling a real wide smile. He said, "Well, Chuck, you have some excellent scans. Every single one of the lymph nodes were smaller than they were ten weeks before! In fact, most of your lymph nodes are less than half the size that they were ten weeks ago, and many of your lymph nodes are so small now that my cursor will not automatically measure the size of the lymph nodes that were there before." They were almost one-third the size they were 10 weeks ago. He was pretty excited about that and he said, "Wow! It looks like the chemotherapy pill has finally killed the cancer!"

I said, "No, doc. Actually, I started on an all-natural nutritional supplement about three weeks ago and based on everything I read, this was the kind of results that it is designed to achieve (at least as far as I can tell) in many people. That is exactly what we are seeing here in these scans. In fact, I even brought you some information on the product and the scientific basis in case you might think this product could be of some assistance to some of your other patients." He literally hung his head and shook it and said, "No. I can't do that here. You just keep doing exactly what you've been doing."

4.10.8. CONVERSATION WITH THE ZEOLITE DROP CREATOR

After I had been on the product 2½ weeks I had a chance to talk with the doctor who created the zeolite drops. It was on a Saturday night and I was going to ask him about the scans that would be updated the following Monday, two days later. I asked him, "Here's my situation. I have been on the product almost three weeks—is that long enough for me to predict any changes in these scans that are coming up on Monday?" And he just kind of smiled and said, "Chuck, don't worry about that. Three weeks is more than enough time to see results on these next scans."

Then I said, "I noticed on reading some scientific information on these drops that you can take it with chemo-therapy type situations. Is there a chance it could possibly retard the positive effect that you might be getting from the chemotherapy? Would it possibly enhance it?" He said, "Don't even worry about that. You just keep taking your chemotherapy pills and the product will actually enhance (if there are any positive effects from the chemotherapy) those positive effects. At your next scan you will know exactly what to do." Then he went on to say, "You are going to be very, very happy with your next scans." And obviously, he could not have spoken a greater truth!

You talk about happy! When you're faced with a situation where your oncologist knows that he is going to have to put you on intravenous chemo and all of a sudden the thing is well and obviously there is no need to do that, it's hard to express. The oncologist said, "In fact, let's go ahead and put your scans back to 12-week periods. I'm not worried about you anymore!" Those were great words to hear! He went all the way from turning you over to hospice to saying, "I'm not worried about you anymore!"

4.10.9. TALK ABOUT HAPPY!

When I went back after 12 weeks and he looked over my scans, he said, "Everything looks great! You're still stable!" "Stable—does that mean I have a little bit of stray cancer left I need to be worried about?" So I started asking some very in-depth questions trying to figure out why would I just be "stable" after being on the product that I know gave me those great results in three weeks? Why, 12 weeks later, would I just be "stable"?

It turns out the reason I was "stable" was because when I was there 12 weeks before, I was basically "clean" in his opinion, and he told me the only way we'd know if I had any stray cancer cells in my lymph nodes is if we were to do a biopsy, and we were obviously not going to do that. It turns out the reason I was "stable" was because I was clean 12 weeks earlier. The doctors were very, very pleased with everything. They also had been shocked at my energy level and my appearance with overall health in spite of the fact that I obviously had this cancer growing in my lymph nodes.

4.10.10. DOSAGE USED

I started out with 15 drops 3x/day, as that is what most people in my situation do, and I've found that most people in my situation with various types of cancer were taking 15 drops 4x/day and sometimes more, depending on how serious it is and if it is working in their bodies and everything's going okay. I began taking the drops the last part of September or around October 1 of 2005, and I just went in for another scan about three weeks ago.

The CT scans are given so the oncologist can see what's going on inside the body. They always have you go in early and have a blood test in order to make sure that you do not have any problems, especially with the kidneys. When you get CT scans they will give you a contrast solution to make sure that they get a clear picture or visualization of what's going on inside your body. It is designed to give a greater differentiation in the cell tissues, so if there's cancer it shows up better. If there are any anomalies, apparently they show up better when they put a contrast solution inside your body. However, the contrast solution can potentially be damaging to the kidneys. One of the things they are looking for in the blood test is the creatinine level, because the amount of the creatinine level in your body allows them to determine how well your kidneys are functioning.

When I went in this last time they took the blood sample and three to four hours later when they had had time to get the blood sample back, I was sitting down with the diagnostic technician that checks you in and goes over everything before you go to the CT scan area, and she said, "Chuck, your blood tests are remarkable! Your creatinine level is at the level I would expect to see with a person that has two perfectly functioning kidneys, but the records clearly show that you have had a kidney surgically removed." And that was absolutely right!

Then she said, "Let me show you something.." so she pulled up a graph on her computer that I had never seen before and said, "This is a straight line graph of your creatinine level – and here's where you were in October of 2005. Usually with one kidney, it is reasonably stressed out and you barely qualified for even getting the CT scans. That has to be under control before you come back in and get that CT scan. Here's where you were in October and here's where you are this morning. It goes on a straight line down. This is the range where it is if someone has two perfectly functioning kidneys!" She looked at me and said, "What are you doing?"

And I pulled out of my pocket a little bottle of micronized zeolite drops and I said, "I've found this all-natural supplement.." and I told her the story about when I started taking it and what happened with the lymph nodes and the fact that I didn't need the chemo anymore and I said, "And now I am sitting here and you are telling me that my one kidney is apparently functioning at the level of what most peoples' two kidneys function at. They're working great!"

She said, "That's absolutely right! Can I get all the information about that product?" I told her if she would give me her email address I would mail some information to her. She said, "Will you promise?" In other words, she wouldn't let me out of that room unless I absolutely promised her I would send some pertinent information of what that product was about. She couldn't believe what she had seen!

In my opinion, it's an incredible coincidence that once I started on the drops and took them for something that the medical community really could not control, and now it was under total control. I assure you I will continue to take this micronized zeolite formula for a long period of time, if not forever. I do not want this kind of a situation to get exacerbated and out of control again. Just to be very clear, I did not change anything else about what I was doing except I added that one thing to the protocol.

4.11. LUNG CNACER Submitted by: Carol Topham From: Livingston TX Date: May 2006

This is a situation where Carol was prompted to take aggressive action – taking a heavy dose of the drops. She understood the detoxification response that was taking place and found it to be a good investment in her future. If you are fighting something of this magnitude you have to decide for yourself which is more important (the little bit of discomfort you have for a few weeks—or maybe some people may not have that reaction). If that discomfort outweighs the end result, then it is worth it.

My name is Carol Topham. I was diagnosed with lung cancer in July of 2004. I decided a long time ago that if I ever got cancer I would not allow them to do radiation or chemotherapy, so the only option that I had was surgery or natural health. I opted for natural health. I took a product that seemed to be keeping the cancer the same size, but was not shrinking it. Needless to say my family, after a year of this, was getting quite nervous and they were all quite insistent that I allow them to do the surgery.

It was the side effects of the surgery that I was not so sure of. I was in the hospital for nine days, was sent home with shingles on the right side as well as neuropathy. I am left with severe neuropathy in my right arm and right chest area. I had let a friend of mine know that if they found anything that was natural to let me know, as the doctors were very insistent that I was going to have to have radiation and chemotherapy, both of which I had vowed not to do. I found out after the surgery that I still had cancer in my chest wall and that is why they were so insistent about my doing the chemo and radiation. Several months went by. I was going to the doctor and having all the tests that they seemed to need before doing these treatments.

A dear friend of mine introduced me to zeolite. It was just about the time that a hurricane came through the area where I live, so the hospital cancelled all appointments and I left town. I took the zeolite as soon as I got it, which was just before I left. I took 15 drops four times a day for three weeks. I had some major detoxification, including flu-like symptoms and fever. I went to the bathroom a lot, I felt like I was sick to my stomach, and I was tired. I slept allot. Every time I would wake up I would take more drops, so (to tell the truth) there is no telling how much I took I was quite ill for a couple of weeks, but I had a goal and my feeling was that the discomfort was well worth the end results.

When I went back to the doctor, he did not say a word about the treatments that he had previously insisted I take. I asked him why and he told me that they could find no sign of cancer. I told him what I had taken and then he said he wanted a P.E.T. scan. This particular test scans the entire body will find cancer if there is any at all. I told him that I would do it, but that he would not find cancer. My doctors knew that I wanted to find a natural way of taking care of the cancer problem, but had been skeptical to say it nicely. When I went back for the results of that test there was no sign of cancer.

I have scans and x-rays every three months, so the doctors feel better about the fact that I no longer have cancer.

It has been a year since my surgery and two years since the diagnosis and I am cancer-free. The only thing I did was take the zeolite drops.

4.12. HEPATITIS C Submitted by: Jim Woods From: Littleton, Texas Date: May 2006

My name is Jim Woods and I live in Littleton, Texas. In October of 2004 I was diagnosed with hepatitis C, and from that day forward I had complications. I had low blood sugar attacks, severe leg cramps, joint pain, severe fatigue. I was dizzy all the time. I had problems with remembering – I couldn't even focus on what I was supposed to do next. I lost a lot of weight and was what you might call a "walking dead man." I was only able to up and moving around for about two to three hours a day. I had very dry, flaky skin and I had a severe rash, something I have had all my life, which covered about 50% of my upper body. My skin was yellow, as were my eyes, a jaundiced condition which I understand comes with cirrhosis of the liver. Also, my hair was breaking and falling out. I felt like I was going to be bald.

One day Carol Topham and her husband came through my booth at the flea market where I was trying to make a little bit of money because I couldn't work. They were telling me about the zeolite drops and I started to take the drops. I only took three drops three times a day. Three weeks later the Tophams called on me to see how I was doing. I was doing pretty good in that I could sit there three days straight (which was something I hadn't been able to do before).

I decided to increase my dosage, so I took 10 drops every four hours, and I began to feel better. When I increased the drops to every four hours, it was almost clock-around because I am a light sleeper, even when I was really healthy. I felt like I could handle that much. I realized had not been drinking enough water and I had to increase the amount significantly. I felt a heaviness or a tightness in my chest because cirrhosis of the liver goes along with hepatitis C and also vein hypertension, largely because the blood won't pass through the liver and the fluids actually leaked into my abdominal cavity. My feet were swelling and I feel it was because my abdominal cavity had filled up severely with the fluids that were leaking from my veins and the fluids would drain from there into my feet. My feet would swell up and my legs were numb from my knees down and they felt like they were a part of someone else's body. Since I have been taking the drops that has diminished about 80% – I can feel my toes again! Also, my leg cramps were going away, the pain in my joints ceased to exist, and I had a lot more energy. I lost my depression and my anxiety and the severe brain fog I had was gone. My skin color has changed (much of the yellowing has gone) and I have blood vessels again. The rash is just about gone and I no longer have sunken eyes. The rings around my eyes are diminishing and it has made an astounding improvement in the way I look and the way I feel. The yellowish cast in my eyes has cleared up and my vision is getting a little better.

I am really glad that I found something like this to take because I was looking at dying.

I have been taking the drops for about six weeks now and I am going to continue to take them. It's given me about 90% of my original health status. I feel this is something that is God-sent and I really feel good from it. (Jim did not know Carol and Arnold Topham when they shared the drops with him. This is a great example of love overcoming fear.) You can change lives forever!

4.13. GENERAL POOR HEALTH Submitted by: Susan Coleman Date: May 2006

First of all, I was born into a really difficult physical body. I had cancer before I was 20, and I am now 60. For my first 24 years I determined that natural health was the only way for me because drugs and I don't get along well at all, to put it very mildly.

I have been a practitioner for more than 20 years and a healer all of my adult life and half of my child life as well. I received a degree in energy medicine in the 90's and I believe in holistic health and doing everything you can for others, as well as using everything I could get to get myself healthy.

Last year (about 10 months ago) I got very ill, and I did go to a doctor because one of my issues has been there is something that doesn't work with my pituitary, and they have variously diagnosed it as a possible tumor that nobody's ever been able to prevent. That has been going on for 30 plus years also. The doctor decided that definitely there was something going on there so we should shut down the front half of my pituitary with a drug that was not that well known, but it was out there on the market. We fought for about four months and finally he talked me into it. I took it. It did what it was supposed to do – it did shut down the front of the pituitary. Unfortunately, that was apparently the only part that was ever working (and it was doing double duty), so I had what is called a "cascade effect." All the glands—the thyroid, the pancreas (you name it) – everything shut down and shocked my heart, so I wound up on the floor 15 hours after I took the drug.

I was quite toxic, very poisoned, and without much hope for survival. There was no medical thing that anybody could do, so friends were hauling me off to my acupuncturist—and that was keeping me alive, but just barely. One of my dearest friends came to see me (not to help me live, but to help me prepare for death – to take care of me while I died). That was where I was in October when Winder called me and told me about these zeolites. He sent me my first bottle and I started taking it immediately, and within five days I was up off the floor for the first time in many months.

Apparently, the drug I took just triggered such a violent effect that glands and organs that you can't live without shut down. That was quite a surprise – an unexpected side effect of the drug. It was unknown, and none of the medical people I spoke to had any idea what to do other than give it up, so I was expecting to die. I had absolutely no hope of living through what was going on or what happened when my heart would get shocked – some times as many as four or times a day, so I would just crash to the floor. It got to the point where I was living on the floor. It was too much effort to get up and sit in a chair; it was even too hard to get on my bed, so pillows and blankets were brought for me to the floor.

Friends brought food, but I was completely at the end of my life, literally. I was being carried every day (and sometimes twice a day) to my acupuncturist. He wasn't even able to help me much. He was sweating while he worked on me because it is so complicated. He said that every gland, every organ was just not working.

On the fifth day after I started taking the drops (I was taking them in relatively small doses of 5 to 7 drops every few hours) I remember getting up off the floor and thinking how nice it would be to sit down in a chair. It sounds like such a simple thing, but having been flat on the floor for so long, to get up and sit on a chair was miraculous! Gradually, over the months I have gotten better and better to the point where I am working again. It's not full-time yet, and I am not 100%, but I am getting there. I am so grateful for these drops!

4.13. AUTO IMMUNE DISORDER Submitted by: Jana Billsby Date: 2006 May

I am 48 years old and I am a person who has significant health challenges throughout my entire life. It just seems to be one thing after another. I can relate to a lot of the things that Marie DeArmon says. I have an auto immune disorder involving the thyroid which struck me in my mid thirties and it completely changed my life because it affects everything that I do, including my body, my energy – everything.

I know that I became hypo thyroid after I had a flu shot because I became so ill. In hindsight I know that it has to do with Thimerosal. Everything I have learned has shown me how some of these things have affected my life dramatically.

When I was 12 years old I started my menstrual cycle and I would have to stay home from school and home from work and couldn't participate in a lot of activities because of the severe cramps and heavy bleeding (even as a 12 year-old). I started to be irritable and continued to have female problems and when I started to hemorrhage this last fall it was so embarrassing because I couldn't go anywhere. I couldn't leave the house.

I had been hemorrhaging for three months and I had just spent six hours at the doctor's office that day. The doctor told me I would have to do the regular things that they do to women of my age and wanted to put me on all of the hormone replacement therapies, etc. I told her I couldn't do that because I knew that was not my answer. I was praying on my way home and said, "Lord, there has got to be something—there has to be an answer. I don't want to go that direction." I came home and the telephone rang and it was a friend who told me about the drops.

I started taking the zeolite drops just this last December and within one week the bleeding completely stopped. I started to become energetic. I used to have to sleep so much and by 10:00 a.m. I had such brain fog I would just fall asleep on the couch. After about two weeks of being on the product I came out of prayer – I go to prayer at 5:30 in the morning – and I would come out at 6:30, and all of a sudden everything was so clear! I could see forever, and I never thought about it being my eyesight. I thought it was just the brain fog that made it seem dull, but it was just like I could see so far and so clear. It's been amazing!

At first I was taking 10 drops 3x/day and that is what I did that first week and my body started to heal itself. I started taking five drops 7x/day – every three hours I would take five drops. I have bottles everywhere so that I can access them when I need them. And that reminds me to take it. I have a bottle in my purse and a bottle in my pocket—I always have them with me. Sometimes I am around really toxic things, so I just take a few drops while I am there. For instance, this morning I was cleaning my oven and knew that I needed more drops.

I have now been on a 28-day cycle – a normal and complete cycle. I have never in my life had this. I had PMS. I now have no PMS and I feel my immune system is now responding and working with the hormones in my body. Not to have any pain is such a blessing!

Over a year ago I developed something wrong in my foot and I couldn't even stand up and start to walk. I would have to stop and stretch. I never could stand up from a chair and start to walk, and even if I could, I limped. That all went away in January, so I think my body is beginning to heal itself. I know the drops are doing the job in removing toxins—I can tell. I don't understand all the processes that are going on in my body, but I know one thing. I am never going to stop taking the zeolite drops!

My husband is a trauma surgeon, a general surgeon. I have known him for over 20 years and I have never seen him take medicine of any type. He doesn't take antibiotics; he doesn't take anything, yet he knows all those things. He says the PDR is full of side effects and says that all medicines have side effects, including Tylenol, etc., and so I have a husband who is a physician who only takes nutritional supplements. He knows that the body can heal itself when given the right thing. He is very open to natural things.

We have a 17 year-old son and he had a bad psoriasis-type thing on his arms and his legs. He started taking the product when I did (and I wasn't even expecting this), but now his skin is completely clear – and he has dealt with that since he was an infant. So I am really excited about that.

Our 19 year-old daughter had a growth on the top of her hand that was starting to look very suspicious and it wasn't healing over a period of time and we thought we would have to have a biopsy. She wondered what would happen if she put the drops on it, so she began putting one drop on that growth on the top of her hand. I can't say what it was (we didn't have the biopsy) but she put one drop on three times a day and within just a couple of days she came up to me and said, "Mom, look at this." I could see that it looked kind of like a volcano – it had a peak on it and then it had a crater effect in it, and we so excited! We just saw this thing dying within a very brief period. After about two weeks of putting one drop on three times a day you couldn't even see a scab. When the scab fell off the skin underneath was absolutely normal.

4.15. GENERAL EXPERIENCES Submitted by: Jeff Brown From: Texas Date: 2006 May

I started on the product back in October 2005. One thing I would highly recommend is that all of you start a daily diary. If you have been on the product and haven't done that, then it would behoove you to do that because so many wonderful things happened to me, and if I hadn't written them down day by day, there is no way I would ever have remembered it.

I started on 10 drops 3x/day, and on days one through three I had quite a number of different feelings. I felt very invigorated, I had an inner feeling of well being, my concentration was a lot easier. On another day I wrote that I was excited—I had this very excited feeling in the pit of my stomach. By day three brain fog was totally gone. I used to wake up every morning just dragging myself around the bedroom trying to get ready for work and just trying to face another day. Well, those days are gone! I wake up feeling great just about every single morning.

On day four I wrote that I slept 10 hours with no interruptions, and for me, that's quite a feat because I used to have sleep apnea. I used to connect myself up to the C-pap machine, which is machine that helps you breathe at night so that you can sleep without interruption. I don't have that problem now.

Day six I noticed that I didn't have to turn my thermostat down. I usually had to turn it down to 62 degrees, but I noticed one day that I forgot to turn it down and it was 72 degrees, so I no longer need to turn the A/C all the way down to 62, so it saves quite a bit of money on air conditioning.

I own a window washing business and have been doing it for 30 years. After about 25 years of this I could no longer do the work by myself. Whenever I was on the ladder for more than two hours my feet would swell, my knees would ache, the joints in my fingers would swell up. My muscles would hurt and I wouldn't be able to work for a day or two. On day eight I had to do the job by myself—my workers didn't show up—I was worried about it, but I was feeling good and I had a lot of energy. I worked for six and ½ hours straight on that ladder. My feet didn't swell up and my knuckles didn't swell up. I just felt great! I could hardly believe it!

On day ten. Even though I am 50# overweight, I can now work at the pace I used to work at when I was about 35 years old. Now I can work faster and more efficiently than the guys that are working for me who are about 25 years old. For the first eight days, in spite of the fact that I had all these wonderful things happening to me, I still felt pretty sluggish. I felt hammered, like I had been working all day long, whether I had really done so or not. At the same time I was feeling all these other emotional benefits, feeling invigorated and having a feeling of well being and it was easy to concentrate. The product seems to have the innate ability to work on two different levels at the same time—the emotional one and the physical one. After day ten that sluggish feeling was gone and I had energy to spare.

On day 11, I worked for our biggest commercial account—it was a car dealership. In the past whenever I had to wash windows below my waist I would have to get down on my knees and do that work because I had a lower back pain that was too excruciating for me to deal with. I was washing windows in record time and wasn't paying attention, but realized that I was standing up all the time. I had no trouble getting up and down at all! I could not believe it, but that lower pain in my back that I have had for at least 10 or 15 years is totally gone.

On day 12, I wrote down that I had lost 9# in 11 days! That was without doing anything. I wasn't conscious of being on any diet or dietary restrictions. I also wrote that my food cravings were gone, and I didn't notice that either until day 12. I no longer drink any coffee, no coke, no alcohol or sweets. All of those things used to be staples in my diet.

On day 16, I was in the shower shampooing my hair and noticed that all the pre-cancers on the top of my head were almost gone! I used to have these scabby things and would have to go to the doctor every two months and have them burned off. They were practically all gone! I didn't use the drops topically at all. I had just been using it orally at 10 drops 3x/day for 16 days and the pre-cancers were practically all gone.

Day 18, my toenails started to return to their natural color. The big toes used to be brown and brittle and had ridges in them and the other toes had a white color to them. The white color was gone and the big toes were turning more pinkish.

On day 19, I thought to myself, "If 10 drops a day can have all of these wonderful benefits for me, I wonder what would happen if I took 15! So on day 19 I started on 15 drops 3x/day.

On day 27, I had been on 15 drops 3x/day for eight days, and something really wonderful happened. About four years ago I went to an Ophthalmologist and he told me that I had a disease of the cornea. It only affects reading vision and he told me that my vision was quite impaired at that time and I needed to get on the list to get a cornea transplant. I said, "What happens if I don't do that?" and he said, "In three or four years you won't be able to read anything." He told me I could use a magnifying glass for now, but that in three or four years I wouldn't be able to read anything, even with a magnifying glass. He was just about right because about three years later I had a magnifying glass and my prescription lenses and I could just barely read, so I knew I was going to have to do something with my eyes. I had been on the 15 drops 3x/day for 10 days – and I was at the bank making a deposit in the drive-through lane. It was really harder than normal to see what I used to be able to see, and then all of a sudden I almost had a heart attack because I realized I didn't have my magnifying glass in my hand. I was looking at the deposit slip and I couldn't believe I could actually see it! Then I noticed that my reading glasses were on the dashboard. I just couldn't believe it – I was looking at my glasses in utter disbelief! No longer did I need the magnifying glass, but I didn't even need glasses! Now I can see comfortably, but can I just pick up a book and read it? No. But the fact that I can see it at all without corrective lenses and without a magnifying glasses was just beyond belief! And of all the wonderful things that have happened to me, the best thing for me is I don't need a cornea transplant!

On day 30, I decided to see what 15 drops 4x/day would do for me. On day 39 (10 days later) I was on another job washing windows. I was up on a ladder doing some second-story windows. I was really glad about my reading vision, but I wondered if it could possibly help my far-sightedness. I was washing a window and looked into it and noticed that I didn't have my glasses on again! I have to tell you that when I was working I hadn't washed windows without my glasses for the last 30 years, and from that day on I have never worn my glasses again to work! Another added benefit! On day 41, I went to visit my enrollers and I knew I had to get home before dark because I have a very hard time with night blindness. The headlights almost blind me and I wondered if I could see any better if I took my glasses off, but I was worried because I thought if I see worse I might have a crash, but I found that I could see both lanes of traffic – not just my own lane – and I could look right at those headlights coming toward me and I had no problems.

So my advice to all of you is to have a diary. Put it down and tell your experiences on a daily basis. I am so thankful for this product – it has really given me my life back in probably 10 or 15 ways – and maybe more! I would emphasize that you drink a lot of water, never less than two or three quarts of purified water a day. I really think that had a lot to do with my results.

4.16. BREAST LUMP Submitted by: Joan Justice Date: 2006 May

A year ago in January 2005 I found a lump in my breast, and naturally, it scared me to death. I have a mother who had died at approximately the same age I am and I had helped take care of her. I decided to go the nutritional route and because of that I did a lot of prayer and I eventually found a nutritional doctor who helped me a great deal. He gave me a good diet with the nutritional things, enzymes and things like that. I tried a lot of things that had helped other people and I knew that they had actually cured cancer, and I talked to them, but it wasn't having that effect in me. We could tone it down and we could kill it, but it was growing faster than we could kill it.

In February one morning my nutritional doctor came into the office and said he had been doing some research and he told me about the zeolite drops and told me I needed to take it. I said, "Okay.." and the next thing I knew, I was a distributor. I decided to start with 10 drops 3x/day and I could notice a difference right away. I had been detoxing and doing all these other things and had been on a good nutritional diet, but I had two minor ocular migraines—one right after the other – right away after I started taking it. I didn't have any pain with them, but that was unusual. By the third day I felt absolutely joyous and I had lots of energy. I had more energy than I had had. I had been pretty weak at times, but then I felt I could keep going as long as I wanted to.

I was anxious by then to get over this stuff that I had been battling so hard and had been praying so hard, and I talked with my doctor and told him I really want to take more, and he said, "Okay." So I did 15 drops 3x/day the next day and then we talked again and decided to do 50 drops a day. I was taking them five drops 10x/day. That was my choice and I pretty much stayed on that. I did a lot of cleansing, but it was okay—I am used to that and I understand what it is – and I'm happy when it happens because I know that's my body getting rid of what it needed to get rid of. The most recent cleanses I've had are some pretty bad headaches. When I get more toxic I get a little nauseous sometimes. It's not bad, but I've lost my appetite although I haven't lost any weight. I didn't gain any weight—it's pretty much right where it was.

Within two weeks I was not seeing a reduction in the size of my tumors—in fact, one was on my collar bone. I decided to go ahead and do chemo treatments (which I had done everything in the world not to have to do), but I went ahead and did it. It turns out that the cancer I have is a very aggressive kind that hits so many pre-menopausal women in their late 40's or their 50's. After my first chemo treatment it hit me a lot harder than I thought it would and I got so sick I could not stand much of anything in my mouth—food or drink – for almost week, and I got dehydrated. I didn't take the drops because you have to drink water with that.

One week after I had the CDC done and my white blood count went from 6.4 (which was very good) to 1.2, which they weren't concerned about, and of course you have to be careful with infections and being around other people. You can't be around cut flowers unless you wear a mask, etc.

I started taking the drops again because I knew it would protect me and I had gotten some fluids, so I wasn't so dehydrated. I took the drops for two weeks before I had the next treatment. I take pictures of my tumors every day – I keep complete records of them, and from that day until now they have reduced every day. Every day I can see a difference. (Thank you, God).

The chemo treatments are three weeks apart and I did the second chemo treatment and I didn't get dehydrated. The first time I did the chemo the tumors got so big and so hard I thought they were going to split open. I told them that at the office and they said, "Sometimes they do." I put coconut oil on them and started taking the drops and it started reducing. After the second chemo treatment it did not get larger and it did keep reducing, even though I was taking the chemo. Also, I didn't get mouth sores; my throat didn't get sore. I used it for the acid reflux – that helped so much. The burning and everything eased off in about three days and within a week that was all gone.

The chemo was uncomfortable – I don't want to do it again, but the second treatment was so much better than the first time. I got over it much better – I could drink and I could eat. I didn't get dehydrated. I have postponed my third chemo treatment because the tumors have gotten so small – the one on my neck I can barely even find anymore. The oncologist was absolutely amazed and said, "That's almost gone!" His mouth dropped open. The rest of them have continued to shrink and shrink. I am very grateful because nothing else I tried has worked.

SOME ADDITIONAL GENERAL EXPERIENCES AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Notes from a Conference Call 2007 Jan 18

4.17. AN AMAZING TESTIMONY: GENERAL HEALTH

A gentleman was on the call who had something removed from his breast when he was 18 years old. It was a pretty bad situation—they told him that he needed to go in every year and get it checked. He didn't do that, and it caught up with him thirty years later. Six years ago it started to hurt badly and it spread under the armpit and seemed to be spreading into the bone. His mother died from a terminal disease six years ago and she had some of his same problems.

The first week in February 2006 he started taking the NCD-15 drops 3 x day—and sometimes a little bit more when he would wake up at night with a panicked feeling. He took this dosage for seven weeks, plus drinking a lot of water. He had a 6" scar across his right nipple and it had grown rather ugly. Directly below and down from the nipple was a brown spot that was growing almost daily. In the hollow of that spot it burned like fire constantly. On the right end of the scar there were seven "marbles" that were extremely painful and he felt sure it was going to take him out of this life.

It was seven weeks later that he noticed a change, but he could not tell exactly when the change took place. He was getting out of the shower on March 21 (which he now celebrates as his new birthday) and he noticed in the mirror that something was different; he reached up with the towel to dry it off and noticed that when he moved his right arm it didn't hurt. He realized that something was completely different, and he noticed that the brown spot was just gone! There was healthy flesh, so he reached up and grabbed it and there was no pain. Previously, the pain was very intense whenever anything contacted it—and now the pain was gone! He raised his right arm and moved it around and before then, it was impossible to raise his right arm above the shoulder. The pain was gone and his arm did not hurt! The marbles were gone, the brown spot was gone.

He eventually went down to the doctor's office to have a mammogram taken. At that time he was diagnosed as being completely free of the previously-diagnosed disease.

They ran him through the machine about four times trying to find it in there, but they couldn't. They more or less gave him a clean bill of health and he walked out of the office on cloud 9! He has been thanking God and appreciating each day since then more and more because he was very close to going. The scar is actually disappearing. It was so ugly that his sister used to call him Frankenstein because of the scars he had. This one is disappearing and he is able to walk around without his shirt in front of his children, which he couldn't do before. He is trying to share this with as many people as he can without getting into trouble.

4.18. DAUGHTER'S DILEMMA: RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS

Previously, his 21 year-old daughter began hurting so badly she could hardly get out of bed. The doctor did many tests on her and he diagnosed her with something called "fifth" disease, which her father had never heard of before. The doctor also did a lot of blood work that day, and he called on Thanksgiving day with the bad news that his daughter had rheumatoid arthritis.

The doctor called back about two weeks later and wanted to do more blood tests, and they were frightened about the whole thing, so the minute his daughter got back from his office she started on the NCD and the EDN (the juice).

In addition to his own good news, another thing happened to him this month: They did a third blood test on his daughter to see if she had the disease, and when it came back she did not have the symptoms. She did not have arthritis, and she did not have lupus. Except for the protein in her urine the tests showed nothing—and it was extremely strong when she went in there—and that was a period of almost five weeks. They considered this a greater blessing even than his chest (because she is his daughter!)

4.19. DAD HAD NOT PREVIOUSLY BEEN INTERESTED IN NCD

This gentleman did not readily jump on the program when he was first approached about it. He didn't make a decision to look at the opportunity or use the product, but when he had a family member in crisis, he called his Waiora contact. His daughter-in-law had been diagnosed with a terminal disease and they were going to do biopsies on her and that kind of thing, and he wanted to know what was new and what was out there. He got that bad news and he got the answer, and then he read a very important newspaper article on the Yahoo all within a 9-hour period. It was definitely a Godsend!

Remember when you are telling people about NCD—if they don't seem interested—they may hear more than you know. All the doors are always open, so he called his friend who had introduced him to Waiora and the rest is history! He is looking forward to seeing his grandchildren graduate from college.

4.20. WHAT WE WANT FOR OUR CHILDREN

We all probably want to have MD or some other designation behind our children's names when they grow up, but we surely don't want to have ADD or ADHD behind their names. Those are conditions of heavy metals and they show up in the presence of heavy metals—and what NCD does is take out the trash. It eliminates mercury, lead, cadmium, aluminum and arsenic, along with all the other things on the heavy metal chart. You can go to any good chemistry site and pull up the things that are positively charged and those are the things you are going to eliminate from your life when you start taking this product—along with a few of those initials we were talking about.

4.21. MANY PROBLEMS RESOLVED

The host of the call this evening related a short summary of her own illness when she had open lesions on her arm and had been diagnosed with a number four category of a terminal illness. She had the fastest growing kind and it had already spread to the bottom of her sternum bone and her left breast. It first became visible as open lesions on her left arm. There were also a string of masses that ran down like a string of pearls (except they weren't the size of pearls). They started out like the size of pearls, but by the time she got on the product, each one was between the size of a nickel and a quarter.

Her elected dosage was between 60 and 100 drops (15 drops at least four times a day).

She also put it on the open lesions that she had on her arm, and she applied it to the surface and got interior results as well as exterior results. After ten days of being on the product, the open lesions were gone and the masses on the arm were undetectable. Thirty days after, all the masses in her chest and those on the sternum bone and her right breast were also gone. She fought big numbers (those that measure the blood markers of the disease) Her numbers were about 1,135, and they went down to 8. Her lowest number was 1, so that is pretty exciting!

4.22. QUEST FOR NATURAL TREATMENT PAID OFF

A caller from Vancouver Washington had a diagnosis of a terminal disease and the problem she had was in the female organs, which included the uterus, ovaries, and other things. When she got her tests back the doctor did an immediate surgery and removed the organs previously mentioned. He did a complete hysterectomy, and it was proven that the surgery was necessary when it revealed that all of the fields were involved. The doctor wanted to do multiple rounds of chemo and so forth, and she chose not to use conventional treatment.

On her quest to find a natural alternative for treatment her good friends introduced her to NCD. She has been taking it for six months and the results have been amazing. Before her surgery the test that the doctor used to measure the blood markers (the CA-125) showed a level of the disease in her body of 135. For those of you who are unfamiliar with the terminology, normal would be between 20 and 40, and at 40 they are going to do some pretty serious investigation.

Two weeks after surgery (with everything removed that they could remove) the score was still 115. Now that score is 10—and that is without any chemo or any radiation, and that is dated January 2007.

Another friend had a count of 101,000 when the same test was given last April. Her number now is 11! It is heart-warming to receive messages that tell of great successes. More people will get results if you share your own experiences.

4.23. DOSAGE SUGGESTIONS

It is a good idea to start out slowly if a person is suffering with "Mary Sarah" (think of the initials) or autism. Two or three drops 3 x day is usually a safe rate. One woman with Mary Sarah started in September of 2006 and is now doing marvelously well.

Any kind of nutrition, including the High Five, should be taken with food. That is not necessary with the NCD because it is not a nutrition. That's why you don't have to worry about it—you can't overdose with it, you can't take too much. If you drink a whole bottle, it might simply save your life from anaphylactic shock. It did for the host.

4.24. ANAPHYLACTIC SHOCK EXPERIENCES

The host reported having an allergic reaction and it happened twice. Once she was with a doctor and luckily, she had my bottle of NCD on the table. She had put something in her mouth that she was allergic to and she reacted and just instinctively grabbed the bottle and squirted it into her mouth. Her throat was already closing up and all of the symptoms were present. She can usually only get results with oxygen and benedril They called the EMT's and by the time they got there, she was fine.

She is allergic to drugs and to NutraSweet. NutraSweet is Aspartame. She's allergic to aspirin, so consequently she's allergic to Aspartame, and she is anaphylactic to NutraSweet, and somebody had brought her something with NutraSweet in it.

It happened to her again about two or three months later and more recently, in Las Vegas. That time, as soon as she realized there was NutraSweet in it (which happens the minute it touches her lips) she grabbed her NCD and I just squirted it in--and her throat did not close! She wasn't even sick afterwards, and that has never happened to her in her life. She was able to get through it without any assistance in both cases, and that was tremendous.

4.25. GREAT FOR INHALER USERS

A hospice worker was working with a lady who had been oxygen for a long period of time and she started giving her NCD, and her oxygen levels went up to 95% and they were able to remove the oxygen. We see the same thing with people who have to use a little bottle to fight their reactions. They use an inhalator and we are finding that once they get on the product, most of the people are either not using it at all or they are using it extremely less frequently. One of girls realized that she really didn't need it and she broke the habit pretty quick. Her mother had died of a terminal disease of the throat, and if you have a family history of that, and you also suffered from a chronic situation that required an inhalator for breathing—it would be pretty interesting.

4.26. PET CONCERNS AND AUTISM

A pet owner said that her cat had a feline deficiency—a virus—and wondered about what could be done for the cat. It has sore teeth, not eating well, and losing weight. A wise pet owner might consider putting several drops in its water and also lift up the gum, the mouth, the lips and put the drops along the gum line. Even if you just get a few drops in, that will help. It would be good to do that several times a day.

Another cat was reported to have a terminal illness with big, open sores. The whole face was disappearing before the owner's eyes. The owner wasn't in any position to afford NCD because of her high vet bills. She was a single mom and her child also had problems, so the host asked her, "If I put the cat on the drops, will you put your child on the drops!" and the answer was "Yes."

So she got the product for her son and the host got the product for the cat, and both of them are doing great! That cat was supposed to be put to sleep, but one of the things that happen with kids who have autism (the word "autism" can be used because is it not considered a diagnosis) and her child had multiple symptoms of autism, and the host was really anxious to get the child on the drops. Very often these kids are anti-social and they also don't bond to anyone or anything. That's a general opinion and not a diagnosis, but we find when we start taking out the trash, the kids start finding their way into the lives of their family members. The one thing that this child related to was the cat, so the reason they hadn't put the cat to sleep was because she knew it would devastate her son—and the cat was the only thing he had actually bonded to. He did wear helmets; he was a spinner, a rocker, non-verbal—and the very first thing he said was the cat's name! She was also afraid because the cat had a very invasive problem and it had really bad release of stuff which could go onto the carpet, the floor, and the boy. She was very concerned about her son even touching the cat while it was in this horrible state, so she was between a rock and a hard spot.

Cats don't mind taking the NCD..they line up to take it! They can usually get their food anytime, but they want the drops! The cat is now fine; the kid is doing great, and he took his helmet off after being on the product for three days and has never worn his helmet again. She had the world's worst time trying to get him to eat, and if he did eat he had reactions to everything, and he also had a breathing problem, so when he would get excited he would hyperventilate. She had a little tool that the doctor gave her and she would have to depress on that to get him to breathe.

He has had tremendous results and he has now been in regular school since August 27th! It was about Valentine's Day last year that he started.

4.27. ANOTHER CAT TALE

A 16 year-old cat had an unsightly, fairly aggressive growth on the lower lid of one of his eyes. The owner did not want to take him to a vet so she started putting colloidal silver on the growth. It helped a little at first, but then didn't do much. One day her sister came to visit and she suggested they use NCD instead. In about two weeks of using it one or two times a day (and some days, not at all) the growth is completely gone. There is no sign of it. Thank you, Waiora!

4.28. QUESTION: IF A PERSON WANTED TO DO A COLON CLEANSE USING A PRODUCT CONTAINING BENTONITE CLAY, COULD THEY USE THE NCD SIMULTANEOUSLY?

The doctor who wrote this testimonial said:

4.28.1. INTRODUCTION

If they insist on doing the cleanse, just do it on a lesser degree because everything they use from now on (as long as they are using the NCD) will work better. NCD as a cleanse will not create any detox problems and when they use the clay, they likely will have problems. They could either expect extreme diarrhea or extreme constipation. Put the NCD where you need it and get the results you want. You can simply put 40 drops in a cup (or ½ of warm water) and use it where you need it, as in an enema. By doing it from the inside you are going to get nice results, predictable behavior—and none of those things we just talked about. This same process is excellent for ladies who are fighting a yeast condition. Anytime you get the product where you need it, it's going to have results. So douching with a cup of warm water and 30 to 40 drops of NCD is a wonderful way to go. However, most people who have a yeast problem can get rid of it by taking the NCD internally. Many children with the autism problem are all full of yeast, and we are seeing results with them taking it internally. We haven't had to do the anal cleanse with them.

4.28.2. WHAT ABOUT DOING A LIVER/GALL BLADDER FLUSH?

You are doing that already. When we take out the trash, we wouldn't leave it in the liver! In doing a liver or gall bladder cleanse, you always run the risk of triggering an attack—and if you trigger an attack that results in the loss of gall bladder or in a condition of a blocked liver, you have to take that seriously. You don't have to worry about that when you use this product.

One of the M.D.'s from Connecticut sent a testimony to all the Board members of the Waiora Medical Advisory Board and it spoke of a doctor whose body made stones. That is how he started the letter to the Board and he said that in all the years that he had been practicing and working with people who had stones, if they were stone-makers in the bowel, the liver, the kidney, the bladder, and gall bladder—that usually meant there were stones everywhere or there were stones nowhere.

If they make stones at one time in one place (for example, the gall bladder), if the gall bladder's gone (which is the storage compartment), they have to then go to the liver. When they go from the liver, where do they go? So if you are a stone-maker, you are always a stone-maker.

So here is a doctor who has never considered himself a natural healer, but nowhere in medical school did they tell him that he could relieve the permanent symptoms from someone who makes stones. This product should be labeled as a "stone removing agent." It breaks the stone down and takes it out so that's not uncomfortable. We have had reports from people (when they go to the bathroom) they hear sand hitting the stool. It's safe and effective! Protect yourself—if you have something good, let it have time to do what it needs to do.

One gal had so many scars from colon cleanses that she was diagnosed with a different disease, and it turned out to be nothing but scars from a colon cleanse. The NCD helps you do in a natural way what you haven't been able to do in the past.

For people who suffer from continual constipation or looseness, it is a problem of balance. I would encourage them to try the Waiora fiber blend—maybe do it for half of what is recommended twice a day instead of all of it at one time. About the only time there is a diarrhea situation with this product is when they have been using something to create bowel movements, and they continue to use it after they were using the NCD. Even the food you eat is going to work better when you are taking this product.

4.28.3. IF YOU ARE A STONE-MAKER, HOW LONG WOULD YOU EXPECT TO TAKE THE PRODUCT?

In the case of the host, it was at least once a month. She had actually had surgery on her liver and it is life-threatening to have surgery, but her yellow count was so high you couldn't see her eyes, and her eyes and her skin were so orange that they thought she would die unless they did emergency surgery. They went in through her throat to do the surgery and they couldn't put her out because she was allergic to drugs. They took a stone out that was way too big. They enlarged the duct so that it could pass stones (because once a stone-maker, always a stone-maker).

Every month, at least once or twice a month she could feel the stones get stuck and she would have to work them through with her hands. And she has not had to do that one time since she was on this product for 30 days.

The doctor who wrote the testimonial said

4.29. MANY PROBLEMS RESOLVED

The host of the call this evening related a short summary of her own illness when she had open lesions on her arm and had been diagnosed with a number four category of a terminal illness. She had the fastest growing kind and it had already spread to the bottom of her sternum bone and her left breast. It first became visible as open lesions on her left arm. There were also a string of masses that ran down like a string of pearls (except they weren't the size of pearls). They started out like the size of pearls, but by the time she got on the product, each one was between the size of a nickel and a quarter. Her elected dosage was between 60 and 100 drops (15 drops at least four times a day).

She also put it on the open lesions that she had on her arm, and she applied it to the surface and got interior results as well as exterior results. After ten days of being on the product, the open lesions were gone and the masses on the arm were undetectable. Thirty days after, all the masses in her chest and those on the sternum bone and her right breast were also gone. She fought big numbers (those that measure the blood markers of the disease) Her numbers were about 1,135, and they went down to 8. Her lowest number was 1, so that is pretty exciting!

4.30. A CONSTRUCTION WORKER FALLS FROM BUILDING

4.30.1 INTRODUCTION

A worker in construction fell from a two-story building during December and broke all the bones in his face, as well as three discs in his neck. Luckily, he was not paralyzed when he got to the hospital, and he actually woke up from being unconscious, and the first thing he asked was that the drops be put on him. The only place on his face that he didn't hurt was on his temple and underneath his eyes, even though his eye socket was broken, his jaws were broken, and he had cracks in his skull. He had been a medic in the Army years ago and he knew that if anything was going to help him, those were the areas he needed to have help with right away for brain damage.

His wife got to the hospital and when she saw him (about 30 minutes after he had arrived at the hospital, and his head was swollen about 2" bigger all over because of head injuries) she started putting the drops on him and in 20 minutes she literally saw the swelling go down. That was one of the first huge successes.

They tried six times to put on a halo brace around his neck to hold his neck in place so the discs wouldn't move, but they kept having problems. They finally got it and the doctors couldn't believe that all the swelling had gone down because usually in head injuries the swelling doesn't go down for a whole month or two. That's why they have the screws that go right into the skull and they have this big brace on their head so they can adjust it as needed when the swelling goes down. In a regular halo they usually only put four screws, but in his they put eight, so around the hospital they keep calling him the "angel boy" because they can't believe how well he is doing.

4.30.2. DEVASTATION DURING SURGERY

That was the first incident and if that wasn't bad enough, he is due to have 10 to 15 different kinds of surgery to straighten out all the injuries. He had the first one about four days ago. They fused the three discs together in his neck that were broken. In the process, however, something bad happened. The drill bit that they had on the drill broke in half and it went into the area at the top of his ear from the back of the neck up to the right ear ½" from the carotid artery. So they are asking everybody on this line to pray for Rick.

The good news is, she called last night and said they called in about 11 or 12 different surgeons from all over the United States and had them look at the case and try to figure out how they could get the drill bit out of there. They had to close him up after eight hours of surgery because he was getting too weak. They finally came in and related the problem.

4.30.3. SOME GOOD NEWS

The very first day of the accident before Christmas, one of the doctors was an ears, nose, and throat specialist and she had examined him and had taken x-rays of his face throughout the entire case. His wife called today with good news. She said the doctor took another x-ray and it showed amazing results—like he had never had a broken bone in his face! It was completely gone. The only thing is, they will have to rebreak his jaw later, but they went in for surgery this morning, and they got it out by going up through the roof of the mouth! His wife sends thanks for all the prayers offered in his behalf. Distributors have sent donations of NCD to help out with the expense because he is taking a lot of it. He is doing much better and he is so excited and told his wife, "Whatever you do—if you have to sell my car or my truck—you get me the NCD!"

It seems that when things happen, God pulls him out of it. Most people don't know that his wife has been pouring down the NCD internally and all over externally where he has been injured, and he is doing really well with that.

4.31. EXPERIENCES WITH THE ELDERLY

An uncle has been ill with the flu. They took him into the hospital and he was dehydrated, so they were giving him an IV. Because he is 92 years old, they were giving the IV in the top of the leg on the right shin bone. They taped it on with regular old adhesive tape—and when a body is really old the skin is really thin—and when he was released from the hospital the nurse yanked it off and pulled off his skin on a space about 7" long and 2" wide on the right of his shin. On the left of his shin there was a patch about 4" x 4"! He had to remain hospitalized, and they were trying to get it healed up and he got staph infection in it (confirmed by the doctor).

Friends went to see him about a week ago and he showed them his leg. They had not given him proper instructions—they just gave him regular gauze and wrapped the leg in gauze which had stuck to the wound. He was trying to pull it off, and it pulled off everything that was new that had healed (which wasn't much).

The friend always carried NCD with her, and she had about 10 bottles in different places in her car and back pack, purse, etc. and she pulled it out and immediately started putting it on the dressing and soaking the dressing. She was then able to take the dressing and pull it away from the skin—and it stayed. So the dressing all came free. She gave him all of her bottles and told him to not only take it 15 drops 4 x day, but to also use it on the wounds three times a day. Squirt it on and let it dry and see how it worked for him.

He told her it was doing better and she went back this week and saw the wound, and it has a scab on it that is only 3" long on the longest one and 2" wide on the other one, and it's all new skin underneath. He is doing really well and he said, "I can't believe that those funny little drops could make me feel better!"
